Girijananda Chowdhury University, Assam

AZARA, March 2: An educative and resourceful workshop on "Understanding Gender Concepts" was held in Girijananda Chowdhury University today, as a part of the university's organization of Gender Sensitisation Week from March 1 to March 8, 2023. Dr. Polly Vauquiline, Professor of the Department of Women's Studies, Gauhati University, graced the workshop as the resource person. In the course of the workshop, Prof. Vauquiline specifically highlighted on the difference between biological sex and gender identity, and how gender identity is affected by regressive social ideologies. She, further, emphasized on unmasking the patriarchal mores that operate unnoticeably in daily life. She also threw light on the issue of lopsided gender ratio in academic institutions. The workshop concluded with an interactive session between the resource person and the attendees of the workshop, which consisted of faculty members and students of the university.
