

NEWS BULLETIN

"Emerging Gender Issues : Addressing Gender Concerns in Assam and Northeast India."

AZARA, March 6: A talk on "Emerging Gender Issues with Special Reference to Assam and Northeast" was organized today at Girijananda Chowdhury University, Azara, by the Internal Complaints Committee and Gender Sensitisation Cell of the university. The talk was organized in consonance with the ongoing "Gender Sensitisation Week" organized by the university, from March 1 to March 8, 2023. The insightful talk was delivered by Dr. Sheila Bora, an eminent historian and a retired professor of the Department of History in Dibrugarh University. Her perspicacious lecture threw light on issues like domestic violence, harassment and malnutrition of rural women, which plague the Assamese society as well as the entire Indian landscape. An interactive session between the faculty members of the university and the resource person, followed the talk.

Felicitations of the Resource Person

Dr. Nilanjana Deb presenting the vote of thanks

"The important thing is not to stop questioning." - Albert Einstein

Prof. Kandarpa Das, Vice Chancellor, GCU, with the Resource Person

Dr. Sheila Bora in the midst of her talk

Industry-Academia Meet Organized by GCU

GARBHANGA, March 5: An informal interactive meeting was organized by the Girijananda Chowdhury University on March 5, 2023, between faculty members of the university and senior executives of various industries, tech-based organizations, consultancy firms and pharmaceutical companies, which included CEOs, HR Heads and Managing Directors among others. The meeting was held at Garbhanga Village, Meghalaya, which is an adopted village of Shrimanta Shankar Academy Society. The primary focus of the meeting was on facilitation of placement opportunities for outgoing students of the university, and also on other related issues like promotion of industrial consultancy and joint research.

Prof. Abak Kumar Baragohain, Chancellor of GCU, having a chat

Esteemed leaders of GCU in conversation with senior executives of leading companies

A Productive Meet