I aim to build a strong career in the core electrical or power sector, focusing on sustainable energy systems or automation. I'm currently enhancing my skills in C programming, MATLAB, AutoCAD (Electrical), and basic Python. I have a solid understanding of power system analyze.

I prioritize my tasks using a simple to-do list and set clear daily goals. I focus on high-impact work first and avoid distractions during study or project time. I divide large tasks into small chunks to stay consistent and stress-free. I also use digital calendars and reminders to stay organized and meet all deadlines.

I have strong technical skills in embedded systems and IoT development, with hands-on experience in microcontroller programming (8051, Arduino, ESP32), sensor interfacing etc.

I have actively developed my leadership and interpersonal skills through various extracurricular and technical activities. As the sole coordinator of my institute's Movie Club, I successfully organized creative projects and events, demonstrating strong leadership and time management. I have participated in numerous drama and street play competitions, which have enhanced my confidence, communication, and team collaboration. Additionally, I led a team in a hackathon, where I applied my problem-solving and technical skills in a high-pressure environment, further strengthening my ability to work effectively with others and adapt to challenges.

My key areas of interest lie in core electrical engineering subjects, particularly Power Systems and Electrical Machines, where I enjoy analyzing system operations, machine performance, and real-world electrical infrastructure. I also have a strong interest in Digital and Analog Electronics, especially in circuit design and system behavior. While I am comfortable with basic-level C programming, my passion is more aligned with hands-on electrical applications and system-based learning rather than advanced coding or software development.

I have been a finalist in the Hackathon competition organized by the Alumni Association of Jorhat Engineering College, where I led a team in developing an innovative technical solution. In the field of arts and crafts, I have won multiple awards ranging from local to state-level competitions, reflecting my creativity and attention to detail. Additionally, I have achieved success in quiz competitions, including becoming a finalist at the regional-level quiz organized by ISTE, which highlights my strong general awareness and problem-solving abilities.

I am a motivated and technically adept B.Tech student with a strong passion for understanding computer systems from the hardware level up. This passion has allowed me to gain hands-on experience in PC building, component selection, and system upgrades, making me skilled in diagnosing and resolving a wide range of hardware and software issues. My expertise extends to operating systems, where I am an advanced user of Windows environments and also familiar with Linux distributions. In addition to being proficient with the Microsoft Office Suite for documentation and presentations, I am also capable of setting up and managing home networking infrastructure. Looking forward, my immediate goal is to apply this skillset in a challenging entry-level role where I can contribute to meaningful projects and gain industry experience. As a firm believer in continuous growth, I plan to concurrently prepare for competitive examinations to further enhance my qualifications and build a strong foundation for a successful long-term career in technology.

I've gained a good understanding of pharmaceutical manufacturing and formulation during my B.Pharm. I'm comfortable with GLP and GMP guidelines and know the importance of maintaining proper documentation and lab records. Besides that, I'm quite handy with MS Office (Word, Excel, PowerPoint) for preparing reports and presentations. Also during my industrial training, I got the chance to observe closely about the granulation and compression processes involved in tablet manufacturing. It gave me a practical understanding of how raw materials are processed into finished dosage forms, the parameters monitored, and how equipment is operated and maintained. I also learned about the role of the IPQC department, where I saw how critical quality checks are done at different stages. This helped me understand the importance of real-time monitoring to ensure consistent product quality.

Team work, Problem solving

I am strongly focused on building my career in the Quality Assurance (QA) and Quality Control (QC) departments of a reputed company. I have a deep interest in the systematic, process-driven work that these departments involve. I admire how both QA and QC play a critical role in maintaining product standards, ensuring compliance, and protecting the company's reputation.

"I may not have any major awards or big achievements to highlight at this point, I see that as a reason—not a weakness—but a starting point in my professional journey.

I have focused on building strong practical skills and a mindset of learning, discipline, and teamwork. I believe that even without medals or certificates, a person who shows up every day with responsibility, consistency, and sincerity can add value to a team.

Many achievements are academic or competitive in nature. But I will spend my time preparing for real-world industry environments—especially in QA and QC roles. I know what these jobs demand: patience, accuracy, documentation, time management, and following procedures. These are skills I am steadily developing.
